

MOVING INTO 2011

The Ohio Alliance to End Sexual Violence (OAESV) has a number of exciting new initiatives and projects for members in 2011 as we work to provide leadership in Ohio with respect to ending sexual violence and advocating for the rights and needs of survivors. Our programmatic efforts in the coming year include:

Enhance Collaborative Response Networks – In 2011, OAESV will:

- Host an annual statewide conference, roundtable discussions, regional meetings, and other networking events at which members will develop and enhance multi-disciplinary, multi-agency networks.
- Establish five OAESV Regional Councils in Ohio as well as a number of Caucuses for underserved communities.
- Continue to enhance our statewide Sexual Violence Service Provider Directory. Making referrals and connections will be that much easier with our user-friendly online Service Provider directory.

Training and Technical Assistance – In 2011, OAESV will:

- Provide monthly training opportunities on a wide range of sexual violence related topics.
- From hosting the annual Rape Prevention Education (RPE) conference, to quarterly conference calls with Executive Directors about sustainability, to a webinar on vicarious trauma for service providers, we are actively working to respond to your needs by bringing accessible and emerging information on the topics that are most relevant to you.

Statewide Media Advocacy Outreach and Training – In 2011, OAESV will:

- Work with a PR firm to develop media strategies and bring the issue of sexual violence out of the shadows in Ohio.
- Train members with respect to media communications and will also work to train media outlets in your area.

Public Policy Updates and Strategy – In 2011, OAESV will:

- Host quarterly public policy meetings to discuss strategies on current public policy initiatives and identify needs.
- Send regular public policy communications, including, OAESV Action Alerts and concise overviews of what you need to know to end sexual violence in our communities.

Online Resources – In 2011, OAESV will:

- Unveil our updated and systemized Resource Library that will be accessible on our website. Members will be able to search online for resources and request them online.
- Publish a user-friendly 'Members-Only' Resources section on our website, which will include webinars, training curriculums, and other relevant online resources.

Communications and Social Media – In 2011, OAESV will:

- Continue to send our weekly Resource Countdown to your inbox and update our social media sites, giving you easy to digest glimpses of emerging sexual violence related topics.
- Send a quarterly newsletter with in-depth topics on sexual violence issues in Ohio.
- Produce our first video clips and PSAs that will target specific populations with appropriate sexual violence prevention and intervention messages.

Don't get left behind – become an OAESV member now! Through your membership, OAESV can continue to offer these and other exciting opportunities as we work together to end sexual violence in Ohio and beyond.
