Resources

The Freechild Project – The mission of The Freechild Project is to advocate, inform, and celebrate social change led by and with young people around the world, especially those who have been historically denied the right to participate. For resources and more visit www.freechild.org/adultism.htm

“Making Space, Making Change: Profiles of Youth-Led and Youth-Driven Organizations” by the Young Wisdom Project of the Movement Strategy Center, with the Youth Speak Out Coalition, ©2004. “Making Space, Making Change” is the only available guide for understanding youth-led organizations and their place in the contemporary youth movement. Follow the stories of five youth-led and youth-driven organizations from around the U.S. - how they started, build youth leadership and power, deal with challenges, and make real change in their communities. This report is for all young organizers and their allies who want to put their principles into practice and invest in the next generation!” Download the full report at www.movementstrategy.org

Institute for Community Leadership - This innovative organization engages young people as activist/learners throughout the United States in their powerful Nonviolence Leadership Workshops. They also engage youth as leaders in the renowned National Nonviolence Leadership Corps.

SoundOut: Promoting Student Voice in School- offers a variety of resources, articles, discussion tools, and booklets for students and adults to promote student involvement in school. Visit <http://www.soundout.org/publications.html>
